NORTHERN INDIANA
LAW SCHOOL

....A DEPARTMENT OF.....

Northern Indiana College and Normal School,
VALPARAISO, INDIANA.

26th ANNUAL
ANNOUNCEMENT,
1904-1905.

This School was Organized in 1879 and has had a Successful Career. It has constantly increased in usefulness and numbers, and has fully demonstrated the fact that

A Thorough Legal Education

.....CAN BE SECURED AT.....

ONE HALF THE EXPENSE
Usually Incurred in attending Professional Schools.

FOR EXPENSES OF TUITION, BOARD, ETC., SEE EIGHTH PAGE.

No Vacations----No Holidays.
TIME AND MANNER OF INSTRUCTION.

The school year consists of four terms of 50 school days each. There are no vacations. An interim of two school days occurs between terms, which is useful for organization purposes, and the transaction by the student of necessary business matters. A year at this school therefore means of this school are more than are offered by any two year course in the country, and but little less than the three year courses offered by some, after counting out the numerous vacations.

FORTY WEEKS OF UNINTERRUPTED STUDY.

No "holiday recess," no "mid-year vacation," no "spring recess." The

FOUR HUNDRED SCHOOL DAYS

MODE OF INSTRUCTION.

Our mode of instruction is that known among Law Schools as the "Dwight System." A portion of the text is assigned for each day's reading, and discussed at a daily meeting of the class, by student and teacher. In connection with the readings, cases of accepted authority, illustrating the principles of the text, are reported by the student, and discussed before the class by teacher and students.

SCHOOL OF PRACTICE.

Four hours each week are devoted to familiarizing the student with the practice. Moot Courts presided over by members of the faculty, and occasionally by a student, are held at stated periods, wherein each student is required to begin or defend, all the more common actions, and carry them to issue. Incident thereto, they are instructed as to continuance, change of venue, attachment, capias ad respondendum, replevin, restraining orders, etc.

SCHOOL OF ORATORY.

Prof. Florence Higgins-Butler, the successful and justly popular teacher of Elocution and Oratory, has charge of this department, and will give such courses of instruction and drills as experience has shown materially aid the public speaker. The hours for this instruction are so arranged as to not conflict with the stated exercises of the Law classes. No additional tuition is required.

ADDITIONAL FACILITIES.

The Law School is a department of the NORTHERN INDIANA COLLEGE AND NORMAL SCHOOL, the most numerousl attended, and completely successful institution of the kind in the United States. The tuition paid by the law students entitles them to the privileges of the collegiate department of the parent school. They can continue their Latin, Greek, Mathematics or English. The Literary Societies and Debating Sections are open to the Law Students. All this without additional charge.

THE LEGAL PROFESSION

is an honorable one. The people of this great Republic have trusted the lawyers more implicitly, and honored them more conspicuously than they have the members of any other profession. No institution however ancient and great can bestow it as a boon to the favored. No man has sufficient wealth to buy it. He who would have it must work for it. All a Law School can do is to offer facilities.

WE OFFER YOU

a home in a quiet little suburban city, with all the advantages and none of the disadvantages of the great city, where you can pursue your study uninteruptedly, under the instruction of resident professors, who are at all times approachable and willing to assist you, all for LESS THAN HALF THE USUAL EXPENSE. For cost of board, room, tuition, etc., see eighth page.
States Requiring Three Years' Study.

Recently a few states have made laws, or their courts have adopted rules, requiring three years' study before the student will be permitted to enter the list of candidates for the preliminary examination requisite to formal admission to the bar. The laws or rules making this time requirement, either distinctly say, or have been construed by those enforcing them to say, that by year is meant a University year of thirty-six weeks, and not a calendar year of fifty-two weeks, and that attendance on a reputable Law School during three school years of thirty-six weeks, or their equivalent, shall be deemed a substantial compliance with the law as to time.

The advantages of this school to those who are intending to practice in states having the time requirement, will be plainly apparent. Its sessions are continuous during fifty of the fifty-two weeks of both the years required for graduation, and the student may follow this with a Post Graduate course of thirty weeks in all one hundred and thirty weeks. He can do this practically without vacation, while at other schools he would be compelled to take three months' vacation each year.

REQUIREMENTS OF ADMISSION.

GENERAL ADMISSION.

All persons of good moral character are entitled to enrollment in any class, at any time, on payment of tuition for a term of ten weeks, which is $12.

To be entitled to such admission, the applicant must have studied the Junior curriculum in this school and maintained good class standing, or pass satisfactory examination on the studies of the Junior year, or present the proper certificate that he has accomplished the Junior work or its equivalent at another law school, and pay $48 tuition.
