NATIONAL OFFICERS ELECTED
Secretary - Kathy Bardenhagen, Racine Chapter
Treasurer - Marjorie Nagel, Buffalo Chapter

Funds
Guild Special - $1,600 was given to the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature for overhead projectors; and $800 was given to Greek Life and Volunteer Programs, for funding a lecture series on a variety of women's health issues.
Kaleidoscope Bazaar / Silent Auction / Basket Boutique – this year's total gross receipts were over $14,000. Thirty-five baskets with as many different themes proved to be popular. Guild chapters and individual members are invited to send ideas, suggestions, and thoughts about future bazaars to the Guild office.

Reports
Guild President (Judy Mason): At this seventy-year milestone we are in the process of winding down the Guild Market, Bed and Breakfast, and cookbook selling. Where are we going from here?

Judy used an analogy of Big Ten football strategies to demonstrate that we must think not of the next meeting, event or fund raiser, but we must act on a passion for VU which goes beyond a single play.

We must realize why a project is needed and then determine how to implement it. We must continue to plan with full knowledge of our reasons. The CLIR is very important to the Guild in fulfilling our stated purposes. We must not let our memories of the past be greater than our dreams of the future.

Treasurer: (Norma May): the Guild succeeded in fulfilling its pledges of $220,000 for undergraduate research and $50,000 for the Valparaiso University Prayer Book, “Our Hope for Years to Come.”

University President (Dr. Alan Harre): Addressing the group at the Friday evening dinner, President Harre first spoke about September 11. On hearing the news of the terrorist attack the campus gathered in the Chapel for a service of community and prayer and an embracing of international VU students. The students are quietly going about the business of getting educated, and the University staff is there, ready to help in all ways.

The Three Goals One Promise Campaign has passed the $90 million mark. Ground breaking is planned for April 2002. When the new Center for Library and Information Resources is finished, the present Moellering Library will be renovated as the new Union. The use of the present Union building it is being considered. Huge piles of dirt behind the Union show where the new main entrance to the campus will be.

Student enrollment stands at 3,553, a slight dip from last year. Valparaiso University will be offering a Masters in Business Administration, with emphasis on environment and on ethics, starting in the fall of 2002. The LEAPs program allows BA students to earn their Masters degree and teaching certificate while teaching two years in Lutheran high schools and grade schools.

Guild Executive Director (Julie Thomas): Although her first year as Executive Director has gone by fast, Julie noted that through her Guild work she has grown professionally and spiritually and in the blessings of new friends in the Guild.

The Guild continues to meet needs of students and to serve Admissions with student sendoffs, Valpo Sunday, and by talking to students and parents about the University. Continued on next page...
With ONE Voice

by Judy Mason

So where do we go from here? On September 29, 2001 our organization celebrated its 70th anniversary of service to Valparaiso University. We celebrated this remarkable past and our numerous successes. Just the simple fact that we have maintained the founders’ original vision, to provide support and assistance to the students at VU, is an incredible accomplishment. During these seven decades of service we have challenged each other to dream bigger, think larger, and plan harder. Success has come each time we have challenged ourselves as an organization. Could we establish 50 new chapters for the 50th anniversary?

In anticipation of the “We See Clearly” campaign our marketing committee chairs have developed several fund raising activities that you can participate in as a small chapter, a large chapter, or even a Four Winds member. The key to the success of this national project is participation by every member.

The success of this project also hinges on our ability to attract new members. New members and the retention of current members is the lifeblood of the Guild. The “Set a Bookmark” membership campaign challenges us to increase chapter membership by 10 percent or at least two members. New members bring new energy and new ideas.

So where do we go from here? These current challenges and goals may sound similar to those of the past but what this means is that we are staying the course. We continue to fulfill our mission statements, to promote VU in our local communities, and to strive to achieve our vision to be “The international community of Christian women using our gifts in volunteer service as unique and valued partners in the undiminished progress of Valparaiso University.”

“Where do we go from here? An answer to all these questions is, of course, yes. These achievements did not come easily. They did not come without some worry, a few tears, and much praying. But they happened.

This legacy hurls us into the next decade of service. Can we live up to the successes of the past? We have again challenged ourselves with the current campaign “We See Clearly” which is our national project to earn $200,000 for the Center for Library and Information Resources. We have pledged to raise these funds by June 30, 2003. At the beginning of the campaign we asked the past national officers to consider leadership gifts and they responded with a commitment of over $10,000. This is just a start but it challenges each of us, as Guild members, to match the dedication of these women.

The Center for Library and Information Resources is essential for the VU campus. When completed, it will be a state of the art research and study center. Because of its central location it will also serve as an important meeting and gathering place for students.

The web site is becoming a more effective tool in promoting the Guild. God has heard our voice in prayer, and the Guild will continue to grow in effectiveness in 2002.

Vice President of Guild Affairs (Linda Deal) - Referring to recent surveys done by Guild Affairs, Linda revealed that today’s chapters are clustered around major metropolitan areas. Eighty percent consist of one to thirty members; 71% have 1-25 members; 61%, 1-20; 54%, 6-20; and 20% have more than thirty members. The Guild Board of Directors is using surveys to identify trends and see where changes are needed. A pre-chapter plan is in place, and potential venues for new chapters are being sought.

Linda’s challenge to each Guild member: Communicate what you know and love about the Guild and serve with enthusiasm.

Vice President for Marketing and Communication (Marlene Rakow) - A time line with photographs from the past 70 years was posted on the front board. Each member was urged to sign on the year she joined the Guild. Because the central marketing of Guild Market products did not generate break-even revenues, the program has been discontinued. Products will still be sold via the Bazaar and in local outlets. A new compilation of Guild Bed and Breakfast locations is being prepared and will be available from the Guild office. The Guild cookbook inventory is gradually being reduced through special prices.

The national committee will suggest two national fund raisers each year. The current ones are Shermer Pecan sales and Pampered Chef parties.

Membership Campaign (Rebecca Otte): The goal of the campaign is to increase each chapter by two members or ten percent. See the committee’s handout, “Set a Bookmark,” for target groups and tips for gaining new members.

University Topic (Professor Richard AmRhein, University Librarian): He presented clear and comprehensive descriptions of what the new Center for Library and Information Resources (CLIR) will mean to learning at Valparaiso University. In addition to computer, Internet, and cyber resources, which are constantly changing and developing, a solid background of books and papers will be there for ongoing and permanent reference. The goal set for groundbreaking for the new building is April of 2002. The professor thanked the Guild for its commitment to this undertaking.

Bylaws: All amendments were passed as printed in the Call to Convention, except Article V, Section 1(b)3. New Golden members shall not be admitted after July 1, 2002. This amendment was defeated.

Released Chapters: Nassau-Suffolk NY, Greater Kankakee Valley IL, Michigan City IN, Greater Dayton OH, Winter Haven FL, Big Valley CA, East Central IL, Saddleback Valley CA.

Saturday Banquet: “Back Home Again in Indiana,” was this year’s banquet theme. The banquet took place in the VUCA lobby with keynote speaker, Louise Williams, Director of Lutheran Deaconess Association and President of the World Diocesan Federation.

Alumni Service Award: the award was presented to Lorraine Dorough, Atlanta Chapter GA, Guild immediate Past President and Coordinator of the Christian Women’s Conference 2001.
"We See Clearly" the Need for VU's CLIR

By Anne Franklin, National Project Promotion Chair

The 2001-2003 National Project campaign is called "We See Clearly" not only because the Center for Library and Information Resources is called the CLIR for short, but also because as a Guild, we have consistently seen the needs of the University and, time after time, have risen to the occasion to help.

Today, the need for a new Center for Library and Information Resources is clear to see.

How the Guild can fulfill our commitment is also clear to see! Consider these four ways:

First, support the project with prayer. Specifically, pray for those officials overseeing the planning and construction of the CLIR and for the Guild's "We See Clearly" campaign. Ask those close to you and in your church to pray that the Guild see clearly as we embark on this two-year project.

Second, consider giving an individual gift earmarked specifically for the "We See Clearly" campaign. Whether a one-time contribution or a pledge that continues through the course of the two-year project, your gift is important. At convention, it was announced that $10,000 had already been given or pledged by past Guild national officers.

Third, encourage your Guild chapter to participate in all the fundraisers proposed by the national Guild. Selling greeting cards by Creative Communications and Schermer Pecans are wonderful ways for your chapter to earn extra funds for the "We See Clearly" campaign. Or, host a Pampered Chef home party where a percentage of the proceeds are donated to the National Project fund.

Finally, have fun with the fact that "We See Clearly" the importance of a new CLIR at VU. Think up creative book-related fund raisers that your chapter can host.

Thank you for your steadfast commitment to the Guild and to the "We See Clearly" campaign. Psalm 36:9, "In Your light we see light," -the University's motto- promises that with the help of God we can see clearly the plans He has for the Guild and the University.

Promote VU Through Valpo Sunday

Participating in Valpo Sunday is a simple but helpful way to spread the word about what Valpo has to offer church and society as well as prospective and current students. In November, all Guild members received information on how they can participate in Valpo Sunday. The mailing lists a variety of ways to celebrate Valpo Sunday in your congregation - possibilities that include serving as a greeter or usher or including information on Valpo in the worship bulletin. Some members have hosted Valpo get-togethers before or after church to bring alumni, current students, parents or prospects together.

As the mailing indicated, the Office of Church Relations will supply various free materials to help promote Valpo. For example, if you would like a Valparaiso University poster, bulletin inserts, or information on Valpo church worker scholarships, just call the Office of Church Relations or the Guild office to place an order.

This fall, the Office of Alumni Relations will also organize Valpo Sundays in areas where there currently is no Guild chapter, such as Fort Wayne and Arizona. Guild chapters are encouraged to work with a local Valpo Club to host a Valpo Sunday event.

Although the traditional date for Valpo Sunday is the first Sunday in February (February 3 in 2002), congregations may celebrate a Valpo Sunday on any day. And, please include Valpo if your congregation is planning a Lutheran Higher Education Sunday.

As you look over the materials on Valpo Sunday, please consider the ways that you can serve the Guild's mission to promote the Valparaiso University. Enjoy the experience!
Prayer Book Sales

The Valpo Prayer Book, Our Hope for Years to Come, was distributed to students at Registration Confirmation in August. It is now available for you to purchase a copy.

The Guild raised the funding to print the first edition of this book. Due to the successful fundraising efforts of the 2000-2001 campaign, the Guild raised more than needed to produce this book. The additional funds raised ensures the publishing of future editions of the book – assisting Valpo in creating a new tradition for current students.

The proceeds from book purchases will also go toward the publishing of future editions of the book. Our Hope for Years to Come can be purchased for $10 each or $8 if ten or more books are purchased.

The University thanks Guild members for their support of this publication.

Christian Women's Conference

The committee to plan the next Christian Women's Conference is being established. Based on evaluation results from those who attended the conference in May 2001, it was determined to offer this conference every other year. The tentative date for the next Christian Women's Conference is May 3-4, 2003.

Susan Dippold, from the Southern Piedmont NC chapter and former Guild National Secretary, has agreed to serve as chair for the committee. If you have suggestions for speakers, please let the Guild office know.

Chapter Fundraising Ideas

At convention, Marcia Eckrich, Marketing Coordinator Committee Chair, recognized the many hats that Guild members wear and one of those hats is a fund raising hat. To assist chapters with this responsibility, her committee established the following criteria for Guild fundraisers: it should be profitable; it should fit the image of the Guild; it should not involve a lot of time; and it should be easy and fun to do.

With this criteria in mind, two fundraisers were chosen that all chapters could participate in that would assist in raising the $200,000 for the Center for Library and Information Resources. These two fundraisers were to sell Schermer Pecans in the fall and this spring, host a Pampered Chef party.

Before Christmas, each chapter will receive information on how to participate in a Pampered Chef fundraiser. Ideally, this will give chapters enough time to plan a party for February or early spring.
Bakeless Bake Sale.

After doing this eating the North East chapter has a wonderful way to work off calories and raise funds for VU. North East hosts a Fun Walk where walkers put out sneakers for several Sundays to collect donations from church members and friends instead of pledge sheets.

In addition to food related activities, Area I chapter activities include Buffalo's annual Vespers service and Borders Bookstore fundraiser; South Central, PA's yard sale and membership drive for parents of students; North East's traveling basket project and rummage sale; Washington D.C.'s B&B program and work with the local Valpo Club; and Central NY's appeal to local churches to submit 2001 confirmations lists to VU.

Baking ideas from Area I chapters include: Buffalo chapter's fundraising luncheon that included a cooking demonstration of three different recipes. Buffalo also had its annual fall dinner and is planning a spring brunch. The members of the North East, PA chapter ended June's meeting with an ice cream sundae – two members brought ice cream and other members brought toppings. In December, the North East chapter will have its annual tea dinner. The Rochester, NY chapter had plenty of good eating opportunities with its summer picnic, annual September luncheon and its special 50th anniversary luncheon.

Many chapters also sell food items or kitchen utensils. To sell pecans, the Central NJ chapter participates in three local fairs, where it also sells stainless steel cutlery and soup mixes. The Southtowns of Erie County, NY chapter sells fruitcakes during the holiday season, Rada knives and bean soup mixes. The Rochester, NY and Baltimore chapters are planning Pampered Chef parties. And, for those who are counting calories, the Washington D.C. chapter had a testing party was fun and a big success as they learned about easy meal ideas, recipes and entertaining suggestions.

The Rockford chapter hosts an annual pizza party in August and invites mothers of freshmen students. These guests learned how Guild members use gifts in volunteer service to Valpo. The chapter welcomed four new members and looks forward to getting to know these women at other events throughout the year.

Most of the Area III chapters have had fall meetings, sell pecans, attended the national convention and sold items at the bazaar. Other fall events included membership luncheons in Des Moines and St. Louis, fall brunches at the Pikes Peak and Houston chapters, a fall pot luck at the St. Paul chapter and winery tour by the Lincoln chapter.

In addition to fundraising for the national project, recruiting students for Valpo, and helping at college fairs, Des Moines sends Iowa students large gift bags of treats, Boulder prepares cross bookmarks for confirmations, Houston members walked in the Race for the Cure, and St. Louis will host an Advent Vespers on December 4.

The Denver chapter continues to do a successful fundraiser at Barnes and Noble. The Guild members in Area III are enthusiastic about activities and fellowship with Valpo Guild friends.

Wisconsin - Appleton, Covered Bridge, Madison, Merrill, Milwaukee Golden Gems, Milwaukee Suburban, Racine, Sheboygan, Wausau

The Appleton, Merrill and Milwaukee Golden Gems chapters were recognized at the National Guild Convention for special Guild anniversaries. Appleton celebrates 70 years, Merrill celebrates 65 years, and the Golden Gems celebrates 20 years of service to the Guild.

The Milwaukee Golden Gems chapter celebrated its anniversary with a special meeting and dinner in October. The annual holiday cookie and ornament exchange is scheduled for December.

A calendar of programs with a "Valpo Connection" theme was planned for the Milwaukee Suburban chapter. Arlene Bracken, VU graduate, spoke at the September meeting on "Life in Milwaukee at the Turn of Century." A bus tour was sponsored for area high school seniors for the Valpo campus visit in October.

Chapter members are also busy baking and making craft items for the Milwaukee Lutheran craft fair in November and the Holiday Cookie and Craft Sale in December.

On September 18, the Sheboygan chapter said farewell to longtime member Beulah Kussar, who moved to Madison, WI to be near family. Cake and coffee were served and a wonderful time of sharing memories was enjoyed.

Other chapter activities include the Madison chapter making famous fruitcakes for the holiday season and the Appleton chapter organizing a holiday ornament sale. The Racine chapter welcomed four mothers of VU freshmen to the September calendar planning meeting. Merrill and Wausau chapters are looking forward to special fall programs and another year of successful pecan sales.

Indiana - Decatur Circuit, Hammond, Indianapolis, Mishawaka-South Bend, Valparaiso

The Mishawaka-South Bend chapter had a profitable fundraiser at its September meeting featuring Longaberger. They gained a new member this fall and have also done well selling Entertainment Books. In November, the chapter will sell pecans and assorted nuts - the chapter’s biggest money-making project.

At the November meeting for the Valparaiso chapter, they will have a guest presentation on floral arranging. The chapter stayed busy during football season working the football stand.

The Kentuckiana chapter recently welcomed and participated in the basket boutique this fall. The August family picnic was well attended by members and spouses and the chapter hosted three couples from Laborers from Christ, a group working on a church renovation in Louisville. The members plan to have Pampered Chef party.

One chapter welcomed two new members at the bazaar workshops (what better way to meet members than by sharing the glue guns!).

The chapter also had a luncheon to send off freshman student, Rachel Soli. She was given a bag of "goodies" and helpful hints from graduates. Rachel is enjoying fall at VU and sent her parents an envelope of colored leaves!

Barbara and Lois Oster weren’t able to attend the 70th Convention. Lois, however, remembers how her mother (Lina Wyneken) was so excited to have an opportunity to attend the first meeting of the Guild 70 years ago. Lois is also proud that her granddaughter, Katie Melin, joined the Orlando chapter - she is a fourth generation Guild member!

VU Guild Cape & Hat Instructions

This year at convention, Guild Past President Sylvia Wismar gave the popular instructions for making the VU Guild cape and hat. For those of you who remember this being presented at past conventions, here are the official instructions!

Look for worsted wool for a heavy cape. Look for fine woven wool for a lighter weight, draping cape. Measurement: 54" x 54"

Cut a perfect circle, saving the triangular corners of fabric. Purchase woolen fringe — any color to match the cape or to contrast. Sew fringe on firmly around the edge on both sides. This negates trying to sew a biased hem.

One third in from the edge cut 18 inch long slits in cloth. Bind them with heavy binding similar to cuff binding for a coat, and sew in place like a secure buttonhole. These openings will be the sleeves for the cape.

NOTE: The cape can be worn using the sleeves or just folded in half and pulled across your shoulders. It can even protect from rain by pulling on with sleeve openings and using the rest as a hood.

Now for the scraps. If you wish a hat, try a flat sided hat like a “soldier’s” hat, or a beret with head band. Sylvia chose a beret which can be worn with the head band inside or out. If you have it outside a tuft of the fringe may be used for the decoration.

Sales benefit VU student through the Guild cookbook scholarship endowment.

VU Guild Cookbook Price Lowered

To encourage sales of the Valparaiso University Guild cookbooks, the price for cookbooks sold from the national office has been lowered to $5 each. Chapters may continue to sell the cookbooks at any price. Many chapters have had success selling sets of the four VU Guild cookbooks for $25.

“The $5 price will certainly be attractive and should help chapters reduce or sell out their inventory,” said Kristine Krueger, the Cookbook Promotion Chair.

VU Guild Cookbooks are filled with hundreds of delicious time-tested recipes from cooks all over the country. And remember, the proceeds from cookbook sales benefit VU students through the Guild cookbook scholarship endowment.

To order cookbooks, please call the Guild office at 800-748-4538. Quantities are limited! In fact, the Guild office no longer has Volume III available.

Warmest wishes for happiness and blessings through the holidays and throughout the new year.
