Epilogue: Number 38

This Tribute is dedicated to the faculty and staff, both past and present—the educators at the school; to all the previous Law Review contributors, writers, and the women and men who have served as editors from Volumes 1 through 53; to the future of this community and the undergraduate institution; to the faculty, staff, and alumni who have departed this world before us—may your spirits soar; and finally, to all the current and future legal practitioners with roots that dig deep into the soil of the Valparaiso University Law School—may we all fly high, be humble, be proud, and keep fighting the good fight that we have all been called to complete. May God bless you all as you—boldly—pursue all the endeavors that life has in store for you.

*And the God of all grace, who called you to his eternal glory in Christ, after you have suffered a little while, will himself restore you and make you strong, firm, and steadfast. To him be the power forever and ever. Amen.*¹
